HISTORIES AND COMMUNITIES

The 20th Annual Tri-University History Conference

22 MARCH 2014

Balsillie School of International Affairs
CIGI Campus, 67 Erb St. W., Waterloo

Hosted by

www.triuhistory.ca
Breakfast: 8:30 - 9:00

Session One: 9:00 - 10:30

Cold War Cultures
Chair: Joseph Biscan, University of Waterloo
Room: 142

Ian Muller, Wilfrid Laurier University, "Satire and the Communist Blacklist: The bilateral significance of Reuben Ship's The Investigator"

Cory Scurr, Wilfrid Laurier University, "Minority Voices Echoed Globally: Human Rights and Diefenbaker's Cold War"

Matt Wiseman, Wilfrid Laurier University, "Constructing a "Manly" Defence Posture: Canadian Government and Cold War Science"

Experiences of War
Chair: Dr. Ian Milligan, University of Waterloo
Room: 143

Kyle J. Falcon, Wilfrid Laurier University, "The Paranormal Front: Psychic Phenomenon and Community in the Great War, 1914-1918"

Chadwick Wheeler, Wilfrid Laurier University, "Draft Chasers: Canadians in the Vietnam War"

Angela Hoornaert, University of Waterloo, "A History of the Post-War Experiences of Veterans from the Second World War"

Sheau Lih Yong & P. Whitney Lackenbauer, University of Waterloo, "Family Roles and the Coldest War: Reconsidering the Impact of the Distant Early Warning Line"

Lunch: 12:00 - 12:45

Music presentation in the CIGI Auditorium

Session Two: 10:45 - 12:00

Food and Animal Histories
Chair: Dr. Catherine Carstairs, University of Guelph
Room: 142

Katie Anderson, University of Guelph, "Hitched Horse, Milked Cow, Killed Pig: Pragmatic Stewardship and the Paradox of Human/Animal Relationships in Southern Ontario, 1900-1920"

Jack Mallon, University of Guelph, "Chuny, Citeaux, and Interpretations of Benedictine Dietary Regulations"

Andrew Moore, University of Waterloo, "The Poaching Community of Sussex: Competition among Nobility and Gentry in Sixteenth-Century England"

Memory and Historical Representation
Chair: Dr. Marlene Epp, Conrad Grebel University
Room: 143

Aitana Guia, York University, "We are Al-Andalus: Muslims, Memory, and Community Building in Democratic Spain"

Sara Nixon, Carleton University, "Moving Place: Community Memory and Identity along and within Main Street"

Danuta Sierhuis, Carleton University, "Moving Place: Main Street as a Repertoire of Community Memory and Identity"

Session Three: 2:45 - 4:15

Theorizing Governance and Public Diplomacy
Chair: Dr. Adam Creer, Wilfrid Laurier University
Room: 142

Ron Baker & Morina D. Rennie, University of Guelph and University of Regina, "An advancement in an accounting technology as an aid to shaping a governable Domain"

Angela Hoornaert, University of Waterloo, "A History of the Post-War Experiences of Veterans from the Second World War"

Sheau Lih Yong & P. Whitney Lackenbauer, University of Waterloo, "Family Roles and the Coldest War: Reconsidering the Impact of the Distant Early Warning Line"

Women's Identities
Chair: Dr. Stephanie Bangarth, University of Western Ontario
Room: 143

Gwenth Siobhan Cross, Wilfrid Laurier University, "It gave me great confidence and relief": Obstetrical Analgesics in the 1940s"

Emily Compton, University of Guelph, "An Offense Against the Household: Assault and the Court of Common Pleas, 1399-1500"

Session Four: 4:15 - 5:30

Localities in the First World War
Chair: Dr. Heather MacDougall, University of Waterloo
Room: 143

Matt Fisher, University of Waterloo, "Rural Recruiting, the Formation of the 161st Huron Battalion"

Shelby Riddell, University of Waterloo, "The Notion that 'The War Will Over by Christmas': Truth of Fallacy? An Examination of London Ontario, 28 June to 21 August 1914"

Joshua Pride, Shelby Riddell, and Scott McGeown, Wilfrid Laurier University and University of Waterloo, "Waterloo Region's Reaction to the First World War"

Food and Animal Histories
Chair: Dr. Catherine Carstairs, University of Guelph
Room: 142

Katie Anderson, University of Guelph, "Hitched Horse, Milked Cow, Killed Pig: Pragmatic Stewardship and the Paradox of Human/Animal Relationships in Southern Ontario, 1900-1920"

Jack Mallon, University of Guelph, "Chuny, Citeaux, and Interpretations of Benedictine Dietary Regulations"

Andrew Moore, University of Waterloo, "The Poaching Community of Sussex: Competition among Nobility and Gentry in Sixteenth-Century England"

Memory and Historical Representation
Chair: Dr. Marlene Epp, Conrad Grebel University
Room: 143

Aitana Guia, York University, "We are Al-Andalus: Muslims, Memory, and Community Building in Democratic Spain"

Sara Nixon, Carleton University, "Moving Place: Community Memory and Identity along and within Main Street"

Danuta Sierhuis, Carleton University, "Moving Place: Main Street as a Repertoire of Community Memory and Identity"

Session Three: 2:45 - 4:15

Theorizing Governance and Public Diplomacy
Chair: Dr. Adam Creer, Wilfrid Laurier University
Room: 142

Ron Baker & Morina D. Rennie, University of Guelph and University of Regina, "An advancement in an accounting technology as an aid to shaping a governable Domain"

Angela Hoornaert, University of Waterloo, "A History of the Post-War Experiences of Veterans from the Second World War"

Sheau Lih Yong & P. Whitney Lackenbauer, University of Waterloo, "Family Roles and the Coldest War: Reconsidering the Impact of the Distant Early Warning Line"

Women's Identities
Chair: Dr. Stephanie Bangarth, University of Western Ontario
Room: 143

Gwenth Siobhan Cross, Wilfrid Laurier University, "It gave me great confidence and relief": Obstetrical Analgesics in the 1940s"

Emily Compton, University of Guelph, "An Offense Against the Household: Assault and the Court of Common Pleas, 1399-1500"

Session Four: 4:15 - 5:30

Localities in the First World War
Chair: Dr. Heather MacDougall, University of Waterloo
Room: 143

Matt Fisher, University of Waterloo, "Rural Recruiting, the Formation of the 161st Huron Battalion"

Shelby Riddell, University of Waterloo, "The Notion that 'The War Will Over by Christmas': Truth of Fallacy? An Examination of London Ontario, 28 June to 21 August 1914"

Joshua Pride, Shelby Riddell, and Scott McGeown, Wilfrid Laurier University and University of Waterloo, "Waterloo Region's Reaction to the First World War"
Please join us at the Heuther Hotel after the conference for drinks!

Heuther Hotel, 59 King St N, Waterloo
All are welcome